SEJARAH tercipta selepas Bangunan Sultan Suleiman di Jalan Stesen, Klang yang menempatkan Galeri Diraja Sultan Abdul Aziz menjadi monumen pertama di Selangor diisytihar sebagai warisan kebangsaan secara rasmi.

Majlis pengisytiharan bangunan berusia 100 tahun sejak dibina pada tahun 1909 itu disempurnakan oleh Sultan Selangor Sultan Sharafuddin Idris Shah.

Bangunan Sultan Suleiman antara 26 buah monumen lain yang telah diisytihar sebagai warisan kebangsaan di negara ini.

ia dinaik taraf status daripada warisan

Isteri MB Selangor, dua anak positif Covid-19

SHAH ALAM - Isteri kepada Menteri Besar Selangor, Datin Seri Masdiana Muhamad bersama dua anak mereka disahkan positif Covid-19 pada Isnin.

Datuk Seri Amirudin Shari dalam satu kenyataan pada Selasa memaklumkan, beliau turut melakukan ujian PCR Covid-19 namun keputusan saringannya negatif.

Beliau bagaimanapun tetap menjalani kuarantin sendiri sementara menanti keputusan PCR kedua pada Khamis.

“Sebarang perkembangan akan dimaklumkan kelak,” katanya.

Selain membuat permohonan maaf, beliau turut meminta orang ramai mendoakan kesihatan dan memohon diberikan kekuatan buat mereka sekeluarga.

Difahamkan, Amirudin bersama keluarganya dijangka berangkat menunaikan umrah pada Selasa namun perkembangan terbaru itu menyebabkan hasrat mereka terpaksa ditangguhkan buat sementara waktu.

Of special significance is a black-and-white signature at the entrance written in Jawi, Tamil, Chinese and Roman characters, reflecting the languages spoken by its traditional community.

The central theme of the mini museum focuses on how the village has progressed from the time its foundations were laid up to present day.

Among the donors is Subarudin Subarudin, leader of the Kampung Tenggol, who was born and bred in the old village and Sun Yat Sen, chairman of Persatuan Perantau The Guan Guan, a Chinese temple.

Subarudin donated his family's original set of the temple committee provided photographs from 1983 which depict a redaction ceremony that was carried out after a series of fire took place in the new village.

Apart from the new village's strategic location, it was the harmonious existence of a multiracial community that had enabled the new village to prosper, said Subarudin.

"It has a more evident during the festive seasons where the different races will gather for the celebrations regardless of their religious and cultural backgrounds," he said.

Rina Husa, a restaurant owner, also donated a set of traditional copper scales which he had purchased in the 1980s when he first started his business.

Tan Ka Lin, who sponsored the point for animals and the mini museum project, said the project was a way for the community to pay tribute to their forefathers.

"As a grandfather and father, for example, were not highly educated, they were not highly educated. The younger generation was able to pursue a tertiary education. It is the sacrifice of my elders that has enabled the younger generation to have a better future," said Ka Lin.

At the event, Kampung Tenggol assemblyman Lim Yi Wei said the mini museum was not just a place where old things were kept.

"This is a living space for the community.

"In the height of the pandemic, it was used as a food distribution and Covid-19 vaccine registration centre.

"Now, as a mini museum, there is a corner dedicated to art using recycled items. It is headed by local artist Yui Tze," she said.

Entrance to the mini museum is currently free. Although the MPK is mulling over collecting donations to sustain its operations.

Guardians of Sg Way legacy

A mini museum set up by Seri Setia New Village's community serves as a corridor of history for visitors to get acquainted with the place's interesting past.

A NEW mini museum set up in the basement of Seri Setia New Village multipurpose hall in Sungai Way, Petaling Jaya, is the latest tourist attraction in Selangor.

State local government, public transportation and new village development committee chairman Ng Sri Han lauded the efforts of the Seri Setia New Village community management council (MPK) in transforming what was previously an under-utilised courtyard.

At the launch, he urged much of local history was not being documented, making mini museums such as this an important addition to a community.

"Although history is a subject taught in schools, there are still many things from our past that are not included in textbooks."

While it would be impossible to include each and every aspect of a community's history in textbooks, he said there were ways to have it documented.

"If the younger generation can emulate the example set by the Sungai Way community, they will be playing an important role to preserve not only a community's history but that of the country's history as well."

Not added.

Petaling Jaya city councillor Ong New Hai said the Sungai Way mini museum was the first in Malaysia to be developed by an MPK.

It took a year and a half to complete the project and the mini museum's launch was commemorated in a grand way with fireworks.

Guests were greeted by the spirited drumming of the Cahaya Jaya Muzim Kongseng troupe, followed by an energetic performance by the Khasanah Lake Dragon and Lion Dance group.

The two troupes were founded in Sungai Way in 1986 and 1989 respectively.

Petaling Jaya mayor Mohamad Azhar Ali said the project had made the city council (MBPJ) proud and should be emulated by other new villages.

Founded as the Seri Setia New Village History Corridor, the mini museum cost over RM100,000 to set up.

Village chief Ding Ewe Chai said the project had utilised RM25,000 from the RM50,000 allocated by MPK.

"Over 70% of the mini museum's contribution came from the community itself."

Donors contributed artifacts and sponsored painting, writing and renovation work.

"Most of the physical work was carried out by the MPK members while tasks which required specialist knowledge were done by professionals," said Ding.

He said the idea to document the new village's history came about during its 70th anniversary celebrations in 2010.

The 1942, the area's development was adequate enough to prevent Sir Frank Swettenham, who was then Indonesian Malay States Resident Council, at a time when the area was designated as a 'new village' under the British 'New Villages' scheme.

Former Sungai Way village security and development committee chairman Rudy Chan Chow had been reported as saying that "We also saw it as a way to boost the local economy that had enabled the new village to prosper, said Subarudin.

Rina Husa, a restaurant owner, also donated a set of traditional copper scales which he had purchased in the 1980s when he first started his business.

New village's history dates back to 1800s

SUNGAI Way was a tributary of Sungai Pinakal that once flowed through the area. According to the mini museum's brochure, where those can be seen walking to market vendor and Laman Foo King, and meeting children of the Sungai Way Estate as well as the Coconut School, which is now known as SK (C) Sungai Way.

But Sungai Way's history has had dark periods as well.

The Japanese Occupation in 1941 affected economic activities greatly as did the Emergency period in 1951 when new Sungai Way designated as a 'new village' under the British 'New Villages' scheme.

Former Sungai Way village security and development committee chairman Rudy Chan Chow had been reported as saying that was US vice-president.

"Parts of the old can be found in the mini museum where those can be seen walking to market vendor and Laman Foo King, and meeting children of the Sungai Way Estate as well as the Coconut School, which is now known as SK (C) Sungai Way.

But Sungai Way's history has had dark periods as well.

The Japanese Occupation in 1941 affected economic activities greatly as did the Emergency period in 1951 when new Sungai Way designated as a 'new village' under the British 'New Villages' scheme.

Former Sungai Way village security and development committee chairman Rudy Chan Chow had been reported as saying that during the Emergency, most of those lived by the side of Sungai Way were residents of Puchong, Damansara and Old Klang Road.

"Back then, the village was surrounded by rubber estates.

"Life was difficult and many saw scarce as most of the villagers engaged in agriculture on a subsistence level.

"There were a few provision shops in the village but so one had much money to buy anything besides what was absolute necessary," said Lim.

But land was on Sungai Way's side during the 1960s. It found land another member for Sungai Way. It was known as 'Flooded Village' said Ding.

He explained that this case about when the Sungai Way Free Trade Zone, which housed giant rubber trees such as Manis and Manis, was set up in the 1970s.

"Not only did the industrial zone provide business to sectors like carpentry, ironworks, car repair and electronics, it also saw villages venturing out their land to be partitioned into house lots," said Ding.

"The population here is present in around 6,000 with 600 houses. In 1988, the population was around 10,000 including those workers from Indonesia, Vietnam and Bangladesh living in the new village," he said.

A census carried out recently has revealed that there are still more 2,000 foreign workers residing in Sungai Way.

Of Omicron and booster shots

So many vexing questions arise with the latest wave of infections even in highly vaccinated countries.

I CONSIDER myself a good and responsible citizen. I heeded what my government and the experts said about Covid-19 and dutifully stayed home, observed all the standard operating procedures (SOPs) and, yes, got vaccinated.

I've done my part as have billions of people. So why are we nowhere near defeating this vicious little virus almost two years on?

We were told we must follow the science, but why do I feel we have been led up the garden path instead?

Despite all efforts by governments, such as lockdowns, legislating punishments for SOP violations and, of course, mass vaccination, we haven't tamed Covid-19.

As of Dec 13, 2021, Malaysia recorded 2,695,143 cases and 30,879 deaths. Worldwide, there were 270 million cases and 5.31 million deaths. Compare that with 106,000 cases and 455 deaths just a year ago, with the global count at 80 million cases and 1.8 million deaths.

For months, the enemy was the Delta variant, but now it looks like the cunning coronavirus has figured out how to get around the vaccines and mutated into the Omicron strain, which is putting governments in a state of helter-skelter.

There is a TikTok compilation of quotes from US President Joe Biden, his chief medical adviser Dr Anthony Fauci, Bill Gates and Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) director Rochelle Walensky urging people to get vaccinated because it would stop the transmission of the virus, it would prevent you from catching it, you won't fall sick and get hospitalised and die, and you would be able to do indoor and outdoor activities without a mask.

JUNE HL WONG

So aunty, so what?

Walensky said in an MSNBC interview in March that all the above was based on CDC data from clinical trials and real-world data. So sure, that seemed like good science to follow.

All that, however, is overturned in the same video quoting the same people who have since backtracked on what they said earlier. That hated mask stays, too.

Most disappointingly, countries which achieved really high vaccination rates, like Gibraltar and Israel, have suddenly seen a surge in new infections, which has been dubbed the fourth (or is it the fifth?) wave of the pandemic.

The news from Gibraltar was particularly upsetting because it is the world with 99% of the population having taken two doses and a good portion getting a third or booster shot.

But that hasn't stopped governments across the globe from urging vaccinated people to get their booster shots. Why? Because they (the experts lah!) now say the vaccines didn't quite achieve what they promised because of waning antibodies and breakthrough infections caused by the more contagious Delta variant. The vaccines were formulated for the earlier Alpha variant, you see.

Sadly, my faith in these experts has also waned during the course of the pandemic. I have lost count of how once trusted and respected institutions like the World Health Organisation, CDC and the US Federal Drug Administration have flip-flopped on their advice and SOPs.

Despite misgivings, the vast majority of us have done as told, but we are deeply disappointed and confused by the vaccine "yes, no, maybe" twists and turns.

The message we are being hammered with now is a booster is needed to ramp up the antibodies as they wane over time.

But experts like molecular biologist Dr Aditi Bhargava, director of laboratory research at UCSF that develops mRNA technology, University of Arizona immunologist Deepta Bhattacharya, and Rockefeller University immunologist Gabriel Victoria say antibodies are supposed to peter out.

Katherine J. Wu in her article, "The Good Part About 'Waning' Immunity", in theatlantic.com, quotes Victoria as saying what is seen as a "loss in antibodies is actually the slow waning of the less-good, short-lived response."

"And when antibodies are needed – say, when the actual virus infects us – veteran B cells will produce them again, in gargantuan quantities. Antibodies themselves don't always linger. But the capacity to create them usually does," writes Wu.

If that is the case, why the panic and urgency to jab us again? Granted, older folk like me might benefit from a booster shot as an ageing immune system is not so efficient in honing better antibodies.

But really what science are we following? Even the time frame is a head-scratcher. For mRNA vaccines like Pfizer, the going rate for a booster is six months.

For Sinovac, which is my vaccine, it was reported that it significantly wanes after three months. So when the Selangor government offered free booster shots last week, I quickly signed up.

But on Friday, reports quoting a study published in The Lancet said antibody levels in people who received a third dose of Sinovac eight months after their second dose rose more than twice as much as people who got a booster shot within two months of their second dose. Aiyoh!

So what should we confounded and nonplussed ordinary folk do? Do I keep my booster appointment or cancel it?

Should I even bother with the shot since the experts are still unsure how effective the current lot of vaccines are with Omicron, which is predicted to spread over the world like wildfire in a matter of weeks?

If I get my booster as scheduled, will I have to go for yet another one three months down the line? Are we going to feel like we have become human pincushions just so we can use up all the vaccines we bought that are maybe close to their expiry dates?

What is also noteworthy is the Omicron data coming out from South Africa, the first country to spot and report the strain, strongly indicates Covid-19 symptoms caused by this variant are far milder than the first three waves.

Only 10% of the hospitalised Omicron-infected patients required oxygen therapy. In comparison, 100% of Covid-19 patients admitted during the first three waves required some form of oxygen therapy.

Some experts think Omicron may be just the strain to end the pandemic, as it may have evolved into a less pathogenic form that won't kill off its hosts and live with us like the good old flu. That's what is known as endemic, I believe.

It's time to reevaluate how we have been tackling SARS-CoV-2. Perhaps we have been too obsessed with vaccines, thinking they are the only way to end the pandemic.

Vaccine mandates that some countries are resorting to may not help at all. Rather, such measures will lead to more opposition and anger. As this FB post puts it: "I have never seen a vaccine threaten someone's livelihood, as well as wipe out jobs. I have never seen a vaccine like this one that discriminates, divides, and judges a society."

Apart from vaccinations, more attention and funding could be given to develop better treatments and therapeutics for the small percentage of people who actually land in ICUs with severe Covid-19.

Since people with comorbidities, like obesity and diabetes, are most at risk of hospitalisation and death, governments can also surely incentivize them to get healthier and improve their immune systems with subsidized supplements like zinc, Vitamins C, D and K2.

Make no mistake. I am not an anti-vaxxer but I sure am vexed over this Covid-19 conundrum. Did I say science seems to be leading us up the garden path? It sure feels more and more like we are lost in a maze with lots of dead ends.

The views expressed here are entirely the writer's own.

施工多雨影响交通流量高

承包商封了主要道路一条车道。

皇冠城要道严重破爛

官世峰：2工程延期竣工

报章 ◆林雁芳

(加影13日讯) 受当地基本设施工程、交通流量高以及早前多雨影响，皇冠城主要道路和皇冠城2巷近半年来严重破爛，部分路段更是整片沥青脱落，驾驶人士放慢车速，也导致繁忙时段交通阻塞。

当地居民向《中国报》指出，皇冠城主要道路(Persiaran Mahkota Cheras 1)从蕉赖加影大道进入的车道，经过国油加油站前面的路段严重破爛，由于该路段的冷岳2工程未完工，承包商封了一条车道，每天下班时段交通缓慢行驶。

皇冠城居协主席王和顺受询时指出，居协确实接到许多关于路况的投诉，只是这些路烂问题已久，也多次反映给市议员，居民也感无奈。

他说，皇冠城主要道路和皇冠城2巷(Persiaran Mahkota Cheras 2)都有路烂问题，前者多是路洞，后者多是整片沥青脱落。

沥青整片脱落

“从双溪龙进入皇冠城2巷一直到麦当劳前面，道路都是破破烂烂，沥青是整片整片脱落，若没记错，这条路去年曾补路，但很快又破。”

他指出，皇冠城主要道路则因为冷岳2工程未完工，很多罗厘进出，以致多路洞，虽然这些路洞每次投诉后都有修补，但居民对于长期的道路破爛已感到厌倦。

“如果道路偶尔出现破爛，让居民来监督，居民还是可以接受，但长期破爛和长期投诉，居民会感到厌倦。”

他坦言，居民也知道主要道路要等工程完工后才能重铺，但这期间的道路安全不能忽视。

皇冠城2巷除了整片沥青脱落，也有不明显的路洞。

加影市议员官世峰指出，皇冠城主要道路和皇冠城2巷正进行的工程分别为冷岳2工程和综合水供计划(IWSS)，其中综合水供计划受早前的行动管制令影响，必须延期半年完成。

他说，当地的综合水供计划原订今年12月竣工，如今要延期至明年6月。

他说，由于这两条路的工程都未收工，因此只是暂时以补路方式维修道路，他相信这两条道路破爛，是因为多罗厘使用和早前多雨的天气造成。

“市议会若接到路洞投诉会采取行动，若是路洞由工程造成，会由承包商维修。”

至于皇冠城主要道路，他说，该路段的冷岳2工程已接近尾声，必须等所有工程完工后，承包商才会重铺。

综合水供计划第2期工程从2019年底起分3个配套在皇冠城、双溪龙、双溪士加末、绍佳那英比安等地进行，以便与第1期工程衔接。

这项计划主要是为了解决皇冠城和双溪龙等地区水压偏低的问题。

从蕉赖加影大道进入皇冠城主要道路，道路严重破爛。

(莎阿南13日讯)雪州行政议员黄思汉指出, 随著雪州共77名村长的任期即将在今年尾届满卸任, 州政府目前已陆续接获新任村长的推荐名单并几近完整, 惟仍有待寻求州政府通过后, 方能做出宣布。

他说, 2021年已来到尾声, 意味2018年至2021年的村长任期即将届满, 而新届

新村管委會主席任期將屆滿 黃思漢：陸續接推薦名單

村长任期将从明年1月1日起生效, 为期两年。

“目前, 雪州希盟的村长配额将维持一样, 但至今尚未接获新面孔的名单推荐,

有待州政府通过后, 才会进一步做出宣布。”

他今午出席2018年至2021年, 共77名新村管委会主席与7名新村协调官的感谢

宴, 并接受媒体访问时, 这麽指出。

他提及, 所谓长江后浪推前浪, 本届村长任期结束后, 将有部分村长卸任并

由新人填补, 故他感谢各村村长过去一年的努力与配合, 并希望各村村长卸下村长重任后, 仍能继续关心新村的发展。

“各村们都做得很好, 积极扮演州政府和村民的桥梁, 照顾好我们雪州新村的村民, 甚有者在新冠疫情肆虐期间, 提供消毒的工作, 非常不容易!”

新村發展撥款達79%

黄思汉指出, 尽管雪州今年仍受到新冠疫情的影响, 惟新村发展并没因此而停下脚步, 尤其在硬体方面, 经村长们鉴定与雪州政府的审核后, 州政府用於完成35项提升工程, 以及13项活动的拨款, 已达到79%。

他说, 基於疫情关系, 州政府的拨款有限, 共有79%的拨款已拨出并用於新村发展, 因此可说是“表现达标”。

“今年共有400万令吉用於新村发展, 即35项提升工程和13项活动, 当中一些工程已经竣工, 部分则尚在进行中。”

此外, 他说, 雪州政府在建设各新村的硬体方面, 提升的设施包括民众礼堂、篮球场、改善村里的排水系统等, 同时也拨款给一些新村作美化, 打造旅游打卡点。

“在软体方面, 除了过年举办的新春装饰比赛

县的新村协调官。黄思汉(左5)颁发感谢状给各

等活动外, 我们也得到了赞助商的赞助, 展开一系列的“百万献温情”活动, 给村里贫困人士他们所需要的帮助。”

他也提及, “雪州新村好品大赛”进行了4个

多月后, 从起初寥寥几人报名到现在备受关注, 并且即将於1月2日, 在蕉赖11里新村的长颈鹿故事馆, 举办一场汇集雪州新村好品的新春市集, 同时推介“雪州新村好品伴手礼”的线上线下仪式, 并呼吁大家继续支持、参与和推广。

雪副議長否認打前妻 警方接投報傳召錄供

(沙亚南14日讯) 尽管被前妻举报在离婚前曾遭家暴殴打，但雪州副议长兼诚信党摩立区州议员哈斯努严正否认前妻对自己的指控；瓜拉冷岳警方也证实接获报案，并传召哈斯努、前妻及家人录供。

据形容，哈斯努等都给予警方良好的配合。

马来《阳光日报》报道，哈斯努以WhatsApp回复记者询问此案进展时说，有关投报正由警方采取行动调查中，他否认家暴殴打妻指控。

“我会对该家网站在警方还未采取进一步行动前，就率先报道此案，对案件造成预判（prejudgement）行为的结果，征求律师的意见和看法。”

据国内一家网站报道，哈斯努的38岁前妻祖丽阿妮，于上月向雪州瓜冷警方报案，指她于今年8月21日当2人还是夫妻关系时，就因丈夫要求纳妾一事而起争执。结果，事主被暴打脸部至嘴

唇裂开。

警方：获各方配合调查

另一方面，瓜冷警区主任阿末礼万警监受询时证实，警方在接获投报后，即传召哈斯努、前妻及家人录取口供，展开案件调查。

“州议员（哈斯努）和证人，都在调查过程中给予良好配合。”

他披露，警方的调查档案将于本周呈给雪州警察总部的刑事调查组法律部，以等待下一步指示。

妇援组织：政府政党容忍暴力？

大马妇女援助组织（WAO）法律专员余仁忠（译音）昨晚发推文转发上述新闻链接时，质问雪州政府和政党，是否要对暴力行为继续容忍？

此外，另一人艾妮则转发推文指出，同样来自诚信党的宣传主任兼沙亚南区国会议员卡立沙末，才于数日前面对妻子再顿阿布巴卡的对簿公堂。其妻入禀沙亚南伊斯兰高庭获取准令，以对丈夫要求纳妾一事展开兴讼。
