Shah Alam: Sekolah Menengah Kebangsaan (SMK) Puncak Alam kini mempergiat usaha meningkatkan kesedaran masyarakat mengenai bahaya denggi di sekitar kawasan berkenaan di samping menyebarkan mesej itu ke seluruh negara.

Langkah itu seiring dengan terpilihnya sekolah itu untuk menyertai program Dengue Patrol (DP) mewakili Selangor pada peringkat kebangsaan.

Pengetuanya, Puan Rohani Mohd Noor, berkata penyertaan dalam program DP itu bertujuan untuk mendedahkan pelajarnya mengenai bahaya gejala denggi.

"Kempen ini dijalankan bukan semata-mata kerana SMK Puncak Alam terpilih untuk bertanding tetapi lebih kepada memberi kesedaran kepada generasi muda mengenai pentingnya menjaga kebersihan walau di mana mereka berada.

"Program ini mendidik pelajar dan orang awam untuk mengamalkan langkah pencegahan denggi yang cukup bahaya kerana mampu memudaratkan kesihatan manusia," katanya ketika ditemui pada majlis pelancaran DP peringkat sekolah itu, baru-baru ini.

Bersempena dengan program itu, seluruh warga SMK Puncak Alam, komuniti penduduk dan beberapa agensi turut terbabit bersama-sama menjalankan aktiviti gotong-royong selain mengadakan beberapa buah kios pameran.

Puan Rohani berkata, program itu mendapat maklum balas yang baik daripada pelajar dan komuniti setempat, sekali gus memberi kesedaran kepada pelajar untuk meneruskan usaha murni itu.

TWO new young candidates will be sworn in as Petaling Jaya City (MBPJ) councillors next Tuesday before the monthly full board meeting starts.

Daniel Lee and Lim Yi Wei will be sworn in under the DAP quota to replace Lee Soong Yee and former party whip Lee Suet Sen, respectively.

Once they take the oath at MBPJ, Lim will be assigned to oversee Sections 11, 12 and 13 while Lee will be in charge of PJU1, SS4 and the SS25 neighbourhoods.

"Their appointment letters were issued on Aug 22," said MBPJ public relations officer Zainun Zakaria.

She confirmed the swearing-in would be on the day of the council's full board meeting, which was on the eve of National Day.

When contacted, MBPJ councillor and current party whip Terence Tan said the two new candidates would fit in to their roles well.

"I am confident that both of them will do well, thanks to their experience dealing with council and parliamentary matters," he said.

He said both had been personal assistants to two Selangor MPs and they had a good track record so far.

"They have shown very good work attitude and their personalities fit this job," he added.

Lee, who just turned 32 a few days ago, used to work for Puchong MP Gobind Singh Deo from 2011 until 2013.

He was put in charge of managing constituents and dealing with their issues.

"I have experience dealing with government agencies that include local council matters," he said.

Since 2013, he has been working with a non-governmental organisation (NGO) that help urban poor communities in the Klang Valley.

Lim, who worked for Petaling Jaya Utara MP Tony Pua, was out of the country and could not be reached for comment.
